FAZA BRUSHES

Snake Dike. This model is specially designed for big slopey holds, making it excel on rocks and in the gym. It will be your best friend on every bouder. The handle is made of beech wood and the snake shape fits perfectly in both hands. The white bristles are from pig and the black ones are made of horse hair. If you look closer you will see that the bristles in the front are longer (25mm) than at the back (20 mm). This makes the brush last longer. With “Snake Dike” we have made an inovation in climbing brush technology fanning out the bristles at a 70 degree angle so that the wooden part of the brush barely touches the climbing surface.

CHAOS. A product of utter creative chaos, these brushes combine everything - messed up 3D planes, art burns, colours and textures of exotic woods, holes everywhere and sometimes even more :) The manufacturing process is stripped down to instincts and emotions - what starts as an idea of a handle, after a minute often turns into something completely unexpected. The whole chaos vibe however does not affect their functional characteristics and they remain pretty similar to those of the "Confession" model, making the brushes suitable for both bouldering and rope climbing. Let the friction be with you in a world where Up and Down are just a matter of perspective!

La RAMBLA. If you like the classic form but want something more special You will like our new model "La Rambla". Similar like the culture of Spain "La Rambla" is a brush full of colours, crazy mood and a lot of feelings. "La Rambla" is fresh and colourful but also simple one. So have one of these and Venga a muerte ...

DREAMTIME. All of them are100 % handmade and out of this world. I try to keep them as natural as possible, hence there is no varnish or colour applied and no messing with the original twig's shape. Sometimes even the sanding process is skipped. The creative aspect is completely entrusted to "natural artists" - worms, insects, mosses, timber diseases and crazy curves, resulting from the struggle for light.The Dreamtime world awaits you, but pay attention not to lose your brush in the forest :)

BIG PAW is the big brother of our Chaos model.
Big Paw designs are crazy shapes with lots of color and artistic drawings, different textures of exotic woods and the best thing is... it is bigger. The name Big Paw is stolen from the name of a boulder problem because this brush is perfect for bouldering. Well 'Big Paw' is the solution... with the shape designed to fit your hand, more and bigger bristles than the Chaos and BIGGER! We made them with a lot of passion and love to give you a funky, big functional brush.

ACTION DIRECT. The double mini "Faza brush" is the perfect tool for small pockets. It's tiny and made of beech wood. The boarbristles are short in order to work well with polished steps and chalked holds. "Action direct" fits flawlessly in all types of bags and can be your best friend both at the boulder and on the rope.

CONFESSION IN COLOR. With their functional characteristics basically the same as those of the "Confession" model, these brushes are distinguished by their more pronounced appearance. If you believe that man-made objects may have a personality, then you have just met the Philip Marlowe of brushes. Their irresistible charm stems from the application of different richmordants, topped with a stylish painted logo.

CONFESSION. This is the classic "Faza brush".
Leonardo da Vinci said: ”Simplicity is the ultimate sophistication.”
And our Confession is exactly that. Straight, simple, perfect.
It's made of beech wood, providing for an extra strong handle. The boar bristles are hard and a bit longer at the front where they usually wear out faster. The combination of the above features guarantees the model's durability. The brush head is suitable for all kinds of holds - crimps, sloppers and small pockets, while the end is shaped like a screwdriver, in case you need such tool when rock climbing. A variety of hole-patterns provide each "Confession" brush with a character of its own.

KARMA. It's all about colours. As Winnie the Pooh said - The More, The Merrier. Functionally they don't differ from the other models, but visually they're just breathtaking. The bond with you will be established on a subconscious level and you'll be puzzled why did you pick one brush instead of another. No matter of the preferred explanation, they'll still be your trustworthy friend both at the boulder and on the rope, and with their end shaped like a screwdriver, will even provide you with an extra tool when rock climbing.

CHANGE. Do you hate finishing your brush at the front without able to flip or Change it? Yes, me too. And there comes the idea from. Now you can use your handle multiple times with always fresh bristles in the front. The rubber ring allows easy changing without any instrument. Easy pizzy. The head of the brush is bio plastic (UPM Formi EcoAce) and handle's plastic is made of PP which is 100% recyclable.
